*Now see, He has none but you to be a site of radiant brilliance for His Most Beautiful Names – so do not quit your place, and do not depart.
I am the fertile feminine ground for whatever
He delivers (as a midwife) in us.*

*So we are ever praising God – there is not in existence any man (i.e. who is biologically unable to bear the radiant brilliance He delivers as a midwife).
Indeed, the men, the ones culture designates as such –
they are actually the fertile ground:
so they are my soul, and they are my hope.*

"An Illustrated Guide to Ibn Arabi" by Eric Winkel*
